We ensure that you stay in mountain lodges that offer cozy rooms with shared bathroom facilities. In three specific locations—Ghorepani, Chhomrong, and Jhinu Danda—you will have the convenience of a room with an attached bathroom. In other places, the bathroom facilities will be located outside the room.

Please note that most of the lodges along the trek provide hot showers, except for a few higher locations like Deurali and Annapurna Base Camp (ABC). Due to limited room availability in these higher areas, particularly during busy seasons, there may be instances where you need to share the room with other trekkers. However, we make every effort to make reservations in advance to minimize such situations.

The lodges provide beds with mattresses, pillows, and available blankets for your comfort. In the evenings, the common areas, often referred to as the "living room," are heated and serve as spaces for dining and relaxation. These lodges are known for their friendly atmosphere, providing ample opportunities to meet and interact with fellow trekkers.

Rest assured that we prioritize your comfort and strive to provide the best available accommodations along the trek.

Rest assured, we prioritize providing nutritious and satisfying meals to fuel you throughout your trekking adventure.

Drinking Water during Annapurna Base Camp Trek

For many of us, choosing mineral water may seem like the safest option as it is sealed and provides income for local traders. However, the reality is more complex. While mineral water does generate income for locals, it also leads to significant waste and pollution issues in mountain societies.

Most places lack the resources to handle the vast number of empty plastic bottles. They often resort to burning them, releasing toxic gases into the air, or leaving them in piles that take over 450 years to decompose, just out of sight from travelers.

Consider the Annapurna Sanctuary Trek as an example. The recommended water intake for a high-altitude trek like this is 3-4 liters per day. With the trek spanning 9 days, that amounts to approximately 30 liters and 30 plastic bottles per person, which won't decompose until the year 2466.

In the case of a full MST group of 12 people, a single trip results in over 360 mineral water bottles. Unfortunately, plastic does not decompose at high altitudes, meaning these bottles will remain in the mountains indefinitely. So, what can be done? You need to drink water, but how can you mitigate the problem?

Thankfully, there are several alternatives available that can help you avoid the bottled water trap. Here are four of the best options:

1. SteriPEN: SteriPEN is a trusted UV filtering device that purifies water on the go, using the same process employed by most bottled water manufacturers. It has become more competitively priced in recent years and offers a reliable solution. Other UV filters are also available.
2. Boiled water: Boiling water is an excellent option for safe drinking water on the trek. While not always readily available when you're on the move, most lodges serve boiled water. Boiling kills any potential contaminants, making it a safe and convenient choice. The cost of drinking water through boiling is estimated to be around $40-$50 for a 10-day ABC trek.
3. Purification tablets: Water purification tablets or chemicals like chlorine dioxide are affordable and easy to carry. While they are not as effective as UV filters or boiled water, they provide a reasonable level of water purification. However, they require a few hours to take full effect.

Other options: Additional options include LifeStraw and iodine-based treatments, although they have their drawbacks and limitations.

By opting for these alternatives, you can contribute to reducing the environmental impact of plastic waste while ensuring safe drinking water during your trek.

assist you throughout the journey. They will escort you to a comfortable vehicle that we have arranged for your transportation. With your correct international flight details provided to us, our team will be well-prepared to receive you promptly.

By choosing to book your trip with us, you can enjoy a safe and convenient ride to your hotel without any stress or inconvenience. Our priority is to ensure your comfort and peace of mind from the moment you arrive in Kathmandu.

Kathmandu-Pokhara-Kathmandu Flight:

Our Annapurna Sanctuary trek includes scenic flights both ways from Kathmandu to Pokhara and vice versa. While the distance between these two cities may not be significant (only 126 miles / 204 km), the Nepali landscape and road conditions can make the drive quite long and challenging. To ensure a comfortable and time-efficient journey, we highly recommend opting for the scenic flights.

Flying is by far the fastest and most comfortable way to travel between Kathmandu and Pokhara, especially if you have limited time. Multiple flights operate daily from the domestic terminal of Tribhuvan Airport, and the flight duration is approximately 25 minutes. The flight offers breathtaking views, particularly on the right-hand side of the plane, where you can witness the majestic Himalayas. By choosing to fly, you will arrive in Pokhara feeling refreshed and with ample time to engage in activities on the same day, which may not be feasible with an overland trip.

Pokhara, often referred to as the "City of Lakes," is a charming destination known for its stunning natural beauty. Situated at an altitude of 827 meters above sea level and located 200 km west of Kathmandu, Pokhara offers mesmerizing panoramic views of the Fishtail Mountain and the majestic Himalayan ranges.

The city is home to several beautiful lakes, including Phewa Lake, Begnas Lake, and Rupa Lake, adding to its allure. Pokhara also boasts attractions such as the World Peace Pagoda, Sarangkot, Davi's Fall, Mahendra Cave, and various museums. Additionally, you can enjoy sightseeing opportunities and explore the heritage sites, with the Dhaulagiri, Annapurna, and Manaslu ranges providing a magnificent backdrop.

With its natural splendor and abundant tourist attractions, Pokhara has become a highly sought-after destination in Nepal.

Pokhara to Tikhedhunga By Private Transfer

We meet our Sherpa crew at Pokhara Airport then you will transfer to Tikhedhunga by Private Jeep. Which are approximately 2:30 to 3 hours drive from Pokhara, from where we'll begin the first steps of our trek. From Pokhara, we travel by a private vehicle northwest along the Baglung Rajmarg Road. This scenic drive, which climbs in altitude and is windy in places, transports many trekkers in the Annapurna area to the beginning points of their trek.

Although most of the trekkers began from Nayapul, we highly advise you to drive up to Tikhedhunga and start your first-day trek because you won't have pleasure hiking firstly due to dusty roads. We are always committed to offering you quality private vehicle service for any trip in Nepal. The benefit of taking a private vehicle is that you can ask the driver to stop whenever you like and smaller vehicles tend to be able to move through the traffic a little faster than larger buses. Private vehicles come with their own driver.

Syauli Bhatti to Pokhara by Private Jeep

Upon your arrival at Pokhara Airport, you will have the opportunity to meet our experienced Sherpa crew. From there, we will transfer you to Tikhedhunga via a comfortable private jeep. The journey takes approximately 2:30 to 3 hours and serves as the starting point for our trek.

Leaving Pokhara, we will travel northwest along the Baglung Rajmarg Road in the private vehicle. This scenic drive, characterized by altitude gains and winding roads, is a common means of transportation for trekkers heading to various starting points in the Annapurna region.

While many trekkers typically begin their trek from Nayapul, we highly recommend driving up to Tikhedhunga to commence the first day of your trek. This allows you to avoid hiking on dusty roads initially and ensures a more enjoyable hiking experience. At Mountain Sherpa Trekking, we are committed to providing you with quality private vehicle services for your journeys in Nepal. Opting for a private vehicle offers the advantage of flexibility, allowing you to request stops at your convenience. Additionally, smaller vehicles often navigate through traffic more efficiently than larger buses. Rest assured, our private vehicles come with experienced drivers who will ensure a safe and comfortable journey for you.

Travel insurance:

Travel insurance is not only necessary for any trip but especially important when engaging in activities like high-altitude trekking in remote regions where access to medical facilities may be limited. Having the right insurance coverage in place provides peace of mind and ensures that you can fully enjoy your adventure, knowing that you are protected in case of unforeseen events. From medical emergencies to trip cancellations, interruptions, delays, lost luggage, or even a helicopter rescue, travel insurance offers financial security and support.

We strongly recommend obtaining travel insurance before embarking on your journey. This way, in the rare event that something does occur, you won't be burdened with significant financial expenses. At Mountain Sherpa Trekking, we will provide you with a letter and invoice to submit to your insurance company, expediting the processing of your claim, if needed.
